

FRANKFURT FOR ART LOVERS: SEE THE MAKING OF VAN GOGH, A GERMAN LOVE STORY, WITH VILLA KENNEDY

In celebration of the Making Van Gogh exhibition in Frankfurt, Villa Kennedy, a Rocco Forte hotel, is offering admirers of the passionate Dutch artist an Art Lovers Package that includes entry to the Städel Museum.

Famous for his vibrant sunflowers, starry skies and candid self-portraits, Dutch painter Vincent Van Gogh was a pioneer of Post-Impressionist painting, though he sadly never achieved critical acclaim during his lifetime.

Discover his bold, dramatic brushwork with a visit to the Van Gogh Exhibition at the Frankfurt Städel Museum, which places his works within the context of the German art scene, highlighting the role German gallery owners, collectors and critics played in his posthumous success.

Available to visit until 16 February 2020, the exhibition showcases the largest presentation of Van Gogh's art in Germany for some 20 years with over 140 pieces of his work on display.

Located near Frankfurt's 'Museumsufer' and the Städel Museum, the neo-Gothic villa makes an ideal base for exploring the famous artistic district. Tickets for the fascinating exhibition 'Making van Gogh: A German Love Story' can be ordered, purchased and collected directly from the hotel concierge. Requests for guided tours must be made with the concierge team at least 7 days in advance.

The package includes:

- One night in a luxury room or suite including breakfast
- VIP welcome in your room
- Use of the exclusive Villa Spa

- Entry to the Van Gogh exhibition at the Städel Museum (tickets can be booked directly from the hotel concierge)
